

Beginner Guitar Festival Piece - Forever - Chris Tomlin

This can look intimidating, but it's not that hard. There is plenty of time to change between basic chords, G, C, D, Em. Please play the music straight down the page - there are no repeats.

You will be playing with a piano who will take care of the melody, so I will be looking for clean and precise chord changes and strumming rhythm. This is a great song - have fun!

Intermediate Guitar Festival Piece - Hope Of The Nations - Brian Doerksen

As an intermediate guitar player, I would expect you to be able to play the chords in this piece with no problems. There are no repeats, so please play down the page. You will be playing with a piano, who will provide the melody, so your focus should be on precise and accurate chord changes, and establishing a rhythm suited for this song. The guitar should drive the song along - so pay attention to your right-hand strum pattern and add some style!

Advanced Guitar Festival Piece - Send the Fire - William Booth & Phil Laeger

This reimagined hymn has a wonderful lilt and offers the opportunity for the guitarist to emphasize the time signature. You'll be expected to demonstrate your ability to match your strum pattern with the style of this song, and as well, perform clean, accurate chord fingerings. You will be playing with a piano who will provide the melody, so it will be your job to provide a grounding. Look for opportunities to emphasize certain chords to bring this song to life.

Please prepare to play the first and second verse and end after the chorus.
